Vocation story

In the love of Christ I would like to share my vocation experience. My vocation life starts in a dream. I had a dream on the 17th of October 2015 that really inspired me. I had seen a light penetrate my whole self, and I was now able to know myself, my identity, my purpose, and the destiny of my existence here on earth.

On the 17th of October 2015 at some around 3 am, I had seen a very giant person who fought against me. He had an amour and a sword in his hands, but I had nothing. I avoided all his attacks. After several attacks somehow I had not realized that his weapons were in my hands. I started to attack him, and at last I killed him. At that very moment a light flashed me and I was unconscious. In the light a voice spoke, "My son do not be afraid, take courage." Then it vanished. Before that, I was really an arrogant and aggressive person.

I was Sunday morning, and so I washed myself and went to the church. I prayed in the church asking God's mercy and examining my conscience of the dream. A little voice penetrated my heart saying, "My son, this is the rightful place I want you to be." From there I was really touched by people's participation in the liturgical celebrations. Therefore I decided to apply to study for the priesthood. During my specific formation levels, this dream became the corner stone (post) of my journey.

All through those previous formation levels, I encountered a lot of challenges and difficulties, but this dream reminds me all the time, and I never quit this journey until I now come here to continue this journey. Above all, it is the LOVE and LIGHT of Christ that had transformed and delivered me out of my sinful era. I am now glad to know my purpose in life, and would teach the experience of love and light to others who live in that similar lifestyle. I thank Blessed Mother Mary to always intercede for me.
